

Teddy Bear Sleepover

---

2019

The animals enjoyed the story time in the teddy bear cave but it started to get too hot in there for them to sleep.

---

The animals began to explore the third floor of the library.
They used the computers,

Climbed the bookshelves,

And watched the sun set from the window. The stars would be out soon!

The new friends discovered that the best way to get downstairs was to slide down the banister. It quickly became a race.

Whooo do you think won?

On the second floor of the library, the friends found a new exhibit! The BOOM exhibit even featured a part of Hannibal's history!

It didn't take long for the animals to find the cookies and treats.

After their snacks, the friends looked for Caitlin. They found her desk and decided to help her get some work done.

Well...they tried to help...

Melody was shocked at the mess! She sent the friends to play checkers while she cleaned Caitlin's desk.

The animals tried to make a new friend. Mark Twain wasn't very talkative.

Caitlin and Melody took the new friends to the children's area of the library. How much harm could they do?

Oh, no! Another huge mess!

Poor Melody and Caitlin.

With the children's room all clean again, the friends started to explore. Ceverus and Liams played with the trucks on the carpet.

Abbigail was inspired by all of the space books. She imagined she was the first pink dog astronaut.

Hoot read nighttime books.

Rainbow decided to name all of the planets. It was tough until Caitlin found a book that helped Rainbow learn about all about them.

The stuffed animals all hoped that their humans would be the winners of the grand prizes for the summer reading program.

They were so proud of the homeschoolers for being in first place in the school competition. Oakwood was right behind them for second! Who do you think is going to win?

It had been a long night for the friends. They all snuggled up on the comfy chair and asked for one more story. Caitlin was happy to read to them.

It didn't take long for the animals to fall asleep.

Sweet dreams, everyone!
